Itinerary at a Glance

Malaysia has over 2000 islands, while Indonesia boasts more than 17,500. This land is (definitely) islands!

This exclusive multi-part journey begins with touch down in SINGAPORE – where ancient Chinese, Malay and Indian traditions meet modern Western standards on this tiny island republic. This modern cosmopolitan city has surpassed many of its South East Asian counterparts in its architectural development yet still manages to hold on tight to its cultural diversity. Though the different communities freely intermingle, they also have distinct districts such as Chinatown, Little India and Kampong Glam, the Muslim area. The city enjoys a reputation as one of the region's safest, cleanest and most comfortable travel destinations. Sure, there are expansive, gleaming malls and sanitized, duty-free complexes throughout, but there's also a side of the city with a distinctly Asian soul: vibrant and slightly chaotic, full of herbal medicine shops, fortune tellers, flower and incense offerings, weathered Chinese junks, traditional villages, seaside fish stalls, and lively neighborhood markets selling baskets, silks, cooking utensils, spices.

In addition to a Katong Food Walk and a stroll (with or without Tai Chi) through the Botanic Gardens, you'll have four nights to visit the historic European quarter... peek into ethnic neighborhoods like Little India... observe mah jong players clattering their tiles and astrologers reading the future helped by parrots... sample local culinary specialties at wet and dry markets and Singapore's waterside fish stalls... visit museums... attend performances... visit lush gardens and parks and observe the artsy exercise of Tai Chi ...fly a modern jet aircraft (in a simulator) and test your landing skills... cruise in a “junk” at sunset.

Next Stop: INDONESIA. Never has the phrase ‘spoilt for choice’ rung so true. Thousands of beautiful tropical islands, rich landscapes and diverse cultures, and some of the most stunning vistas on the earth – Indonesia is a treasure trove of tantalizing choices. Where to start? How about on any of the more than 17,500 islands, still relatively untouched with a mix of long sandy beaches, diving, hiking and intriguing culture, yet also plenty of places to get your luxury fix. Just a short flight from Singapore, one of the most idyllic islands of the world's largest archipelago, BALI is known foremost for its natural beauty, terraced hillside rice paddies, lush tropical forests, warm and welcoming beaches, and volcanoes that peak through the clouds. On this sea expedition, we've included not just Bali, but some of the best islands that Indonesia has to offer. Best way to see them? Island hop! We'll start with a two-night stay in the Bali beachside resort town of SANUR.

On the third morning we embark on a six-night exotic SAILING ADVENTURE in a traditional Indonesian Phinisi sailing ship – with canvas aloft, cutting through tropical waters speckled with coral reefs and palm-clad islands, picturesque bays and inlets. Welcome aboard Sea Safari VII – and adventure with many unexpected opportunities to view wildlife, meet villagers, and explore the wonders of the undersea world. Sailing (and sleeping) on the beautiful hand-carved Balinese vessel, enjoy South East Asia's endless turquoise seas and powdery white sands... realize your Robinson Crusoe fantasies... listen for the beat of jungle drums through the trees... relax as the crew work the sails and whip up fresh gourmet meals...explore uninhabited tropical islands... meet indigenous tribes... and sail open seas. Few destinations have as much lush, exotic imagery as the Indonesian islands – small pearls in the immense archipelago that lie scattered like a broken necklace across one-seventh of the Earth's surface. The beauty of these islands is legendary, their biodiversity astounding, and the rich tapestry of their cultures will aid in helping make this TBE Indonesian cruise unforgettable.

One of the islands “breathes fire” – Step ashore on Komodo, an island that’s also a national park, so designed to protect Earth’s largest reptile, the Komodo dragon – a surprisingly fast and agile carnivorous lizard that can weigh up to 350 pounds with a total length of over 10 feet. These fearsome hunters charge swiftly to bring down a variety of herbivores including barking deer, feral pigs and even wild horses. Their saliva contains a large quantity of bacteria; if their bite does not bring an animal down immediately, the prey later succumbs to a fatal infection. Individual Komodo dragons live over 60 years, but the species has been around for 10 million years. The national park features the exquisite lontar palms and bright pink vanda orchids that sprout epiphytically along the trunks of trees. Rinca Island is also home to monkeys, wild water buffalo, deer, horses and pigs and many bird species including yellow-crested cockatoos of Australian origin and monarch flycatchers and kingfishers originating from Southeast Asia. You’ll also have plenty of time throughout the small ship cruise to put on a snorkel and discover the colorful world below the waves, an undersea fantasy equal to anything in the world... landlubbers will love hiking the many mythical islands and picture perfect beaches.

Optional Last Stop: UBUD, BALI. This Indonesian island represents an oxymoron – the city center of Denpasar, crammed with hotels and tourist activity, is renowned for its highly developed arts including dance, sculpture, painting, leather, metalworking and music. The countryside (i.e. Ubud) is something else entirely – picturesque scenery with rice paddies flooding the hillsides and volcanoes reaching to the skies. The rain forests are lush and tropical, and the beaches are washed by the warm waters of the Indian Ocean. Bali is home to the vast majority of Indonesia’s small Hindu minority.

In addition to a cooking class and a Barong dance performance, you’ll have five nights to enjoy the cultural heart of Bali: visit the Puri Lukisan Museum and modern Balinese art galleries... dine at some of the island's best restaurants (the streets of Ubud are lined with everything from “street food” to cafes to upscale restaurants)... browse village art studios of weavers, painters, metalsmiths, wood carvers... explore ancient monuments like the rock-cut shrines of Gunung Kawi, Pura Samuan Tiga temple, and Goa Gajah (at Yeh Pulu)... walk through Monkey Forest... visit the morning markets... shop boutiques selling jewelry, furniture, clothing, housewares, and Indonesia crafts... take a river-raft or a mountain bike ride... R and R in a neighborhood spa... dip you foot into the Ayung River gorge. You can let your cares slip away as you spend the days indulging in soothing massages and exploring the area’s unique vibrant culture and highly developed arts, dance, sculpture, painting and music. And, with more than 20,000 temples, the opportunities to see and experience the Balinese culture is everywhere. Ubud, meaning medicine in Indonesian, is sure to soothe your soul and excite your senses.
